DIAMONDS

We announce to our patrons that no advance has been made in the price of Diamonds or other precious gems because of the "Wilson Tariff bill," which fixes an advanced duty of fifteen per centum on cut or finished diamonds over the former duty. We have yet to learn of the advance of a single dollar per carat by any of our many reputable dealers. It must be remembered that retail dealers is but a drop in the bucket in properties bucket in proportion to the immense quantities held by the many importers and dealers in diamonds.

We certainly will not advance our prices until our present large stock is disposed of, and then only should the cos be greater, which we somewhat doubt.
